Hey Now! I'm Patrick. I've been hand throwing ceramic drums for almost ten years. I use stoneware, a high-fire clay that produces a light yet strong shell that is very dense. The goatskin head is glued on with a water-resistant wood-glue.

I wish I could say I have lots of drums in stock and more on the way, but I no longer have my studio put together, having relocated from Madison Wis. to Ft Lauderdale, FL. By and by I'll get everything going again but for now I am kind of out-of-production. Sorry, but check out my pics of drums (to your left) anyway, and try the links below!
